NAVAJO BLANKET DISPLAY

A Navajo Blanket Exhibition featuring 32 blankets from the Anthony Berland collection will be on display at Humboldt State University's Reese Bullen Gallery beginning Wednesday, through March 14.

Berland, a Los Angeles artist is the owner of the largest private collection of Navajo blankets in the U.S. The exhibition has been shown at the Brooklyn Museum and has just been returned from a one-year tour of Australia.

Fine Navajo blankets now command prices in the thousands of dollars as artists (such as Andy Warhol) and collectors alike have renewed interest in the art form. The blankets, Warhol said, are "yet another proof that women are the world's major artists."

Included in the exhibition are examples from the middle through the end of the 19th century.

The opening reception will be held from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday. Gallery hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays, 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesdays, and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. weekends.

A lecture by Mary Hunt Kahlenberg, curator of textiles of the Los Angeles County Museum, will be given at 8 p.m., February 26 in conjunction with the exhibition.

Pssst...

Rona's volleyball team is better every week. They even won a game! More people have joined their team and rooters have begun to appear. Best of all, the team really has a good time.
